President's Message

The following is a message from Chuckanut Community resident Kathy Bovenkamp. I'll let Kathy's eloquence speak for me – I couldn't say it better myself!

J. Michael Newlight

President, CBCA

The Whatcom County Council supported our efforts in exploring the possibility of implementing a Quiet Zone at the Yacht Club Road Railroad Crossing by unanimously passing the following motion. This is the first step in the process!

"Motion carried 6-0 to request that the administration engage Burlington Northern Railroad to determine necessary safety improvements and develop a preliminary cost estimate for developing a quiet zone at the Yacht Club Road railroad crossing."

Once the cost is determined there will be a discussion with the County Council and residents of our neighborhoods regarding the scope of the project and necessary funding. It is our hope that we will be able to raise funds within our own communities as well as the possibility of any grants or help the County could offer. It would be of great benefit to all our neighborhoods in the Chuckanut Bay and Chuckanut Mountain community in terms of peace and quiet, as the train whistle noise impacts hundreds of homes in our area. We are undoubtedly the most densely populated residential area surrounding any railroad crossing in Whatcom County government's jurisdiction. As well, it would be very beneficial for home sales and property values in our area to be able to state that your property is located in a "Quiet Zone".

Thank you to the following neighbors who attended and spoke at the afternoon meeting of the Council Public Works Committee meeting, March 17. Council was very appreciative to have the testimony of residents, and the information provided at this meeting moved the motion forward to the full Council for final approval.

Karen & Tom Ekdahl, Chuckanut Drive residents

Jeremy Carroll, Chuckanut Drive resident

Bob, Linda, and Nick Earl, Chuckanut Drive residents

Ron & Mary Ann Welding, Chuckanut Crest residents

Michael Newlight, Chuckanut Bay Community Association, President

Jennie Tuckerman, Chuckanut Bay Community Association, Vice President

Steve Tuckerman, Chuckanut Shore residents

If you would be interested in participating in any way with the Quiet Zone project, please feel free to contact me by email or phone. We are looking for great ideas, good suggestions, and folks willing to be part of a committee to get this job done!

The South Whatcom Fire Authority is offering us two First Aid Certification classes (4 hours in length) at the Chuckanut Fire Station. One class is a 4 hour class running from 8:00 AM until noon on Monday, July 20, 2015. The other class consists of two 2 hour classes running from 6:30 to 8:30 PM on Tuesday, July 21 and Thursday, July 23, 2015 (you must attend both evening classes). Registration is required to take the class. We need a minimum of 6 participants for each class to be offered. The Monday class has been scheduled since 10 participants have signed up, the Tuesday/Thursday class has not been scheduled yet since the minimum number of participants has not been reached. The classes are free to residents of the South Whatcom Fire Authority which includes all of the Chuckanut Bay Community and $15 for non-residents on a space-available basis.

Please contact me at tosteve@mac.com or (360) 656-5216 if you would like to sign up for either the day or evening classes or if you have any questions.

Thank you,

Jennie Tuckerman
Vice President

History

Boat Discovers Rock, June 25, 1956

While searching in Chuckanut Bay for underwater obstructions, a U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey crew discovered an uncharted rock “the hard way.” Their boat somehow became perched atop the sandstone pile during low tide. Boat and crew were fine and floated free with the tide’s return at 3 p.m., but not before Jack Carver had captured the ironic predicament. Pictured (left to right) are Bobby Karuza, Eric Musiel and Robert Thirsk, three Chuckanut boys, waving from shore to marooned crewmen Glenn Guthrie and Richard Mansfield. The men promised the rock would be on the next chart.
